CONFISCATED LIQUOR

State Officials Oppose Destruction of $80,000 Worth of Liquor Now Greatly Needed.

Since the prohibition law went into effect in Virginia many people have suggested that the confiscated liquor should not be poured into sewers, but that some other dispositions should be made of the stimulants. Since November 1, 1916, a considerable quantity of liquor has been seiezd by the Alexandria police, which has been poured into the sewer at the station house. Many people from the first regarded this as a wanton waste of an article that could be used in some proper manner by the authorities of the state.

The authority for saving to the State each year $50,000 worth of alcohol, confiscated by virtue of the prohibition act and dumped into the gutter in accordance with a provision of the same law, though it is invaluable for munition-making purposes, is vested solely in the judges of Virginia courts, according to an opinion forwarded yesterday to Governor Stuart by Assistant Attorney-General Leslie C. Garnett.

The "unwarranted waste" of war material in war times was brought to attention to Alexander Forward, secretary to the Governor, by Judson C. Dickerman, engineer of the State Corporation Commission, who suggested that, if prevented by the prohibition law, the Governor "stretch a point" to have confiscated liquor preserved until the Legislature meets next year. It is his idea for the General Assembly so to amend the law as to allow all seized whiskey to be converted to government use for the manufacture of munitions.

The suggestion met with the approval of Commissioner of Prohibition J. Sidney Peters, who said he would welcome an amendment providing for the extraction of alcohol from confiscated ardent spirits and the sale of the distilled product from the seat of government. He knows of no way, he says, in which the present law, providing for the destruction of unlawful whisky, can be overridden.

The Assistant Attorney-General is of the opinion that the Governor has no authority under the law to reverse the order of the court in any given case directing the destruction of liquor which has been seized for violation of the prohibition law, but believes the judges may withhold the order for destruction until the Legislature has time to act.

MAIN NAVAL BASE.

Government Will Acquire Jamestown Exposition Grounds.

It is practically assured that the site of the Jamestown Exposition, which fronts on the broad spread of the lower Cheaspeake Bay known as Hampton Roads, is to be taken over by the national government and developed as the main training station for the United States Navy. The joint conference committee of Congress has agreed upon the purchase of this site, and Secretary Daniels has ordered the immediate survey of the area and it is expected that by the Fourth of July there will be 3,000 and possibly 10,000 of the newly recruited men in training at the station.

The exposition site will meet the needs of the Navy as the main training station for recruits, ideally. The government has already invested about $2,000,000 at this location in the construction of a great concrete pier that extends far out into the Bay. There is at least two miles of shore line along with a large, beautifully wooded tract that extends back from the Bay. There are several building ready for use, but comfortable barracks for accommodation of the recruits that will be concentrated there are to be speedily constructed.

The Cheaspeake Bay is and must always be the chief rendezvous for warships along the Atlantic Coast. Hampton Roads is the main assemblage place for the big ships and the training station will be in nearness to this main naval base; will in fact be a port of the main naval base.

REGISTRATION DAY

Ushered in With Bells and Whistles all Over the City This Morning—A Conspicuous Day in History.

Registration day was ushered in Alexandria this morning at seven o'clock by the ringing of bells and blowing of steam whistles on factories and also on the steamboats along the river front, for some fifteen minutes or more. Some of the people were alarmed over the unusual noise until they finally remembered that it was on account of registration day.

The work of registering began promptly on time and is proceeding with good order at the appointed places in each of the four wards. The crowds were so large during the early morning hours that many of the men had to wait some time before they could get their names on the books and quite a number were obliged to go away and return later.

The Boy Scouts were stationed at each registering place, who handed a card to each man who was registered, which bore an invitation to him to attend service at some one of the churches at which patriotic-religious services will be held this evening.

Nearly two hundred men who expected to be out of town today had already registered with Corporation Clerk N. S. Greenaway yesterday, and Mayor Fisher is in receipt of registration cards bearing the names of men residing here who are employed in different parts of the country.

Number Registered.

The number of men registered in the four wards in the city up to the hour the Gazette goes to press is:

First Ward, Armory on South Royal street—150 white, 30 colored.

Second Ward, Old Eldorado House, Cameron street, near Royal—122 white; 16 colored.

Third Ward, Odd Fellows Hall, North Columbus street, near Queen—168 white, 60 colored.

Fourth Ward, Old Friendship Engine House, Alfred street, near King—160 white; 60 colored.

The figures given show a total of 766 as having been registered in the four wards of the city up to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The registration places opened at seven and will remain open until nine o'clock this evening. Two registrars are on duty at each and the work has been carried on with good order. So far as is known no man in the city who should be registered has made any attempt to defy the law, all having acquiesced in obeying it promptly.

Two additional registrars were placed in each ward at noon to assist in the work.

HELD AS A BURGLAR.

Norfolk Policeman Says Former Preacher Tried to Bribe Him.

Norfolk, Va., June 5.—Accused of burglary, J. Paul Spence, a former Baptist preacher and supervising inspector of public instruction for the city of Norfolk, was yesterday indicted by a grand jury.

Patrolman John W. Boggs in court swore he saw Spence make two trips to a vacant house bringing out on each occasion plumbing fixtures. On the first trip the policeman said Spence concealed the fixtures in a woods near the house. When he came out a second time he was placed under arrest. The alleged crime occurred about 9 o'clock at night.

Boggs also swore that Spence offered to give him $50 if he would release him. When taken to headquarters Spence gave the name of John Smith, but he was recognized by the sergeant, who entered him on the docket under his proper name. Spence declared he removed the fixtures from the house to prevent some boys he saw playing in the street in the afternoon from stealing them. He said he offered the policeman money for his release so he could return home and comfort his wife who might be worried over his absence.

WILSON GIVEN REBEL YELL.

President Makes Unheralded Visit. Cheered by Confederate Veterans.

With his usual suddenness, President Wilson paid a visit to the Capitol yesterday afternoon.

He consulted with Senator Martin, of Virginia, about forty-five minutes.

The President went to the Capitol unheralded and unattended save by Secret Service men. Instead of going to his private room, he went to the room of the Appropriations Committee, of which Senator Martin is chairman.

As the President was leaving, a large number of Confederate veterans, sight-seeing in the Capitol, gave him a rebel yell.

Censorship is quite dead. Its final knell was sounded yesterday, when the conferees upon the espionage bill decided to report out the measure, without the objectionable section.

ENOUGH SUGAR? CERTAINLY.

Cuba's Production This Year Said To Be Enormous.

(From the New York World.)

There will be no need for America to omit sugar from its demi-tasse this year, the Cuban Government's official estimate of the sugar crop shows. The season's production is placed at 2,800,000 tones, second only to last year's crop in the history of the island.

The Government's statement was issued by Eusebio S. Azpiazu, private secretary to President Menocal, and was transmitted by cable to a New York bureau. The bureau said it "will set at rest the alarmist reports which indicated that the profits of the principal sugar companies would be more or less curtailed."

"That the reserve stocks on hand are less than last year's" the bureau adds, "indicates too that the present price levels due to the proved economic conditions, must necessarily be maintained. With the weather continuing favorable, as it has in the last three months and more, the marketing of the crop will proceed with the utmost facility."

The original estimate for the sugar crop this year was 3,400,000 tons. The insurrection, however prevented that figure from being reached.

TREHY FIGHTS NEW LAW.

Norfolk Court Clerk Claims West Act Is Unconstitutional and Refuses Demand for Refund.

Attorney-General John Garland Pollard yesterday filed notice of motion for judgment in the City Circuit Court in the suit of the Commonwealth against James V. Trehy, clerk of the Corporation and Law and Chancery Courts, of Norfolk, for $21,461.06. Counsel for Mr. Trehy, Loyall Taylor & White, of Norfolk, made a motion to dismiss the case and filed a plea which was docketed.

The action against Mr. Trehy was instituted by State Auditor C. Lee Moore, who alleged that the clerk of the Norfolk courts refused to make the returns of the fees collected by him as required by law. It is alleged that Mr. Trehy's receipts exceeded the amount allowed him by statute by the sum sued for.

Counsel for Mr. Trehy are fighting the suit on the ground that the law fixing the compensation of court clerks is unconstitutional.

ROUNDING UP VAGRANTS

Four Able-Bodied Negroes Who Refused to Work for Twenty Cents an Hour Given Three Months in Jail.

The police of this city are on the trail of vagrants, and men who refuse to work, whether they be white or black, are liable to be placed upon the roads, where they will work for the state.

Four husky individuals were before the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of vagrancy. Howard Bell was first made to face the bar. According to the evidence, Bell had been guilty of a misdemeanor some time ago, and a city merchant offered to become his security for a fine of $5 provided Bell would work it out. The latter after having been released was loth to do any such thing, and although importuned several times to take charge of the horse and wagon used by the merchant, declined to engage in any employment. Justice Caton sentenced him to jail for three months.

William Lewis, Robert Geary and George Smith, also colored, were next introduced to the court. The officer who made the arrest stated that these individuals were loitering upon a corner near the river front this morning when a merchant offered them employment at twenty cents an hour. They refused to work for less than twenty-five cents an hour. Justice Caton sentenced them to jail for three months.

The court has announced on several occasions recently when vagrants were before the bar that if such delinquents refuse to work for a reasonable compensation they will be put upon the roads where they will be compelled to toil without pay.

EMERSON MOTORS INDICTED.

Three Other Firms Also Charged With Defrauding Investors.

New York, June 5.—Charged with using the mails in conspiracy to defraud, four corporations, including the Emerson Motors Company, together with 14 individuals, including President George Emerson, were indicted by the Federal Grand Jury yesterday afternoon.

The indictment charges the defendants with a conspiracy to defraud by the use of the mails certain persons whom they induced to purchase stock of the Emerson Company, a Delaware corporation, capitalized at $10,000,000, "well knowing," so the indictment declares, "that the stock had practically no value."

In addition to the Emerson Company, the C. R. Berry and Co., Inc., Robert P. Matches and Co., Inc., and H. B. Humphrey and Co., Inc., were indicted.

WOULD FORM HOME GUARDS.

Virginia Defense Council Proposes New Military Force.

Richmond, Va., June 5.—The Council of Defense yesterday appointed a committee consisting of Dr. Ennion G. Williams, State Commissioner of Health; Bishop Collins Denny and Richard Evelyn Byrd to take up with Governor Stuart the question of forming home guard organizations to take the place of the National Guard, drafted into the Federal service.

The home guards would protect public buildings, waterworks and the like, and prevent riots or other disturbances with which the police might not be able to cope.

The council accepted the suggestions of the Woman's Committtee of the Council of National Defense for the enlistment of the women of Virginia in the big work of defense in this State. Mrs. B. B. Mumford will meet with the executive committee of the council at the Capitol tomorrow and proceed with plans to organize the women.

GUARD INSTANTLY KILLED.

Struck by a Train and Hurled Against a Wire Fence on N. & W. R. R.

Lynchburg, Va., June 5.—Craft Pulliam, a guard at the Six Mile Bridge, six miles east of here on the Norfolk and Western Railway, was instantly killed by a train while on duty on Sunday. Craft was sitting on the end of a crosstie in the track in front of his tent at the time, and his body was hurled against the wire fence on the right of way. He is survived by his wife and several children, who reside near the scene of the accident.

EX-CONFEDS AT CAPITOL

Former Union Soldiers Don Their Blue in Honor of the Men in Gray From the South.

Washington, June 5.—The United Confedereate Veterans, for the first time in their history, met outside the bounds of the States which composed the Southern Confederacy when they assembled here today for their twenty-seventh annual reunion. Thousands of the veterans were here last night for preliminary events.

The first formal session, with Col. Hilary A. Herbert, grand marshal, and former Secretary of the Navy, presiding, was devoted to addresses of welcome. President Wilson spoke at noon.

In the afternoon there will be a reception at the Pension Office Building, where the addresses of welcome will be made by James Tanner, former commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the response by Col. Robert E. Lee, grandson of the South's chieftain.

Veterans, sons of veterans, sponsors and maids of honor and other visitors from the South found a warm welcome awaiting them in the capital. The Stars and Bars everywhere is mingled with the Stars and Stripes, and none are more cordial in their greeting than the many Union veterans who don their blue in honor of the occasion.

On the arrival of the Confederate Commander-in-chief, Gen. George P. Harrison, yesterday a detachment from the local Grand Army of the Republic camp in uniform met him at the station. In the big parade Thursday General Harrison will be escorted by a detachment from the Second Corps' Association, Army of the Potomac, headed by its presiding officer, Col. Myron M. Parker, who was a lieutenant-colonel in the Union Army.

The Confederate Southern Memorial Association held its opening meeting yesterday. Ernest G. Baldwin, commander of the Sons of Veterans, in an address of greeting, expressed the hope "that the same living inspiration and co-operation given by the women of the South to heroes of '61 now may be given to the manhood of the new South, that they may live true to the glorious traditions of their forefathers."

In his address to the Sons of Veterans at their first meeting last night Mr. Baldwin called upon his comrades to respond to the call of duty which the nation is making.

"I feel," he said, "we would be unworthy of the heritage of our forefathers, did we not, with a single mind and single voice answer the call that comes to us at the crucial period of our national history. It is a call for a renewed spirit of patriotism and warm cooperation with those into whose hands we have committed the welfare of our country."

MARY PICKFORD IN NEW ROLL

In accordance with his progressive policies and desire to give his patrons the best films the management of the Richmond Theatre arranged for the presentation of Mary Pickford's new Artcraft picture, "A Romance of the Redwoods," for two nights at the Richmond. Last night's production was seen by a large crowd.

The art of Mary Pickford the super-star, means a new standard of excellence on the screen. In direct contrast to her previous triumph, "A Poor Little Rich Girl," Miss Pickford's newest vehicle presents a red-blooded story of the West, replete with dramatic situations as well as incidents of typical Pickford charm. Supporting the star in the picture is an unusually effective cast including Elliot Dexter, the popular leading man and husband of Marie Doro, Charles Ogle, Tully Marshall, Raymond Hatton and Winter Hall. The picture will be shown again tonight.

WHY WE ARE IN THIS WAR.

The question, Why are we in this war? has been asked by a number of peaceable, but unthinking and, we may see unposted people in peace-loving Alexandria during the past few weeks when it became known that all men between the ages of 21 and 31 would be called upon to register today. In some cases it was difficult to make it plain to some who propounded this question, that should Germany emerge triumphant in this world war one of the numbers of her program is to treat the United States as she has Belgium and northern France should we dare attempt to defend our beloved country from brutal Prussianism. We are glad to see that the eligible young men and those to whom they are near and dear have awakened to the seriousness of the situation, and that today the registrars at the booths have been kept busy. In some wards long lines of earnest young men have stood awaiting patiently their turns. The booths will be kept open until nine o'clock at night in order to accommodate many who are employed during the day, especially numbers who work in Washington.

On the eve of war registration day, Secretary Lane made a speech before the Home Club of the Interior Department in Washington last night, in which he addressed a word to those who have not seen dearly the reason for the country's call upon its young men, and in ringing sentences answered the question: "Why are we fighting Germany?"

America is at war, Mr. Lane said, in self-defense and because she could not keep out; she is at war to save herself with the rest of the world from the nation that has linked itself with the Turk and adopted the methods of Mahomet, setting itself to make the world bow before policies backed by its organized and scientific military system.

"Why are we fighting Germany? The brief answer is that ours is a war of self-defense. We did not wish to fight Germany. She made the attack upon us; not on our shores, but on our ships, our lives, our rights, our future. For two years and more we held a neutrality that made us apologists for things which outraged man's common sense of fair play and humanity.

"Then why are we in? Because we could not keep out.

"We talked as men until we were told that we could not walk the highways of the world without permission of a Prussian soldier, that our ships might not sail without wearing a striped uniform of humiliation upon a narrow path of national subservience.

"We are fighting Germany because she sought to terrorize us and then to fool us. We could not believe that Germany would do what she said she would do upon the seas.

"We still hear the piteous cries of children coming up out of the sea where the Lusitania went down. And Germany has never asked forgiveness of the world.

"We saw the Sussex sunk, crowded with the sons and daughters of neutral nations.

"We saw ship after ship sent to the bottom—ships of mercy bound out of America for the Belgian starving—ships carrying the Red Cross and laden with the wounded of all nations—ships carrying food and clothing to friendly, harmless, terrorized peoples—ships flying the Stars and Stripes—sent to the bottom hundreds of miles from shore, manned by American seamen, murdered against all law, without warning.

"We believed Germany's promise that she would respect the nuetral flag and the rights of neutrals, and we held our anger and outrage in check. But now we see that she was holding us off with fair promises until she could build her huge fleet of submarines. For when spring came she blew her promise into the air, just as at the beginning she had torn up that 'scrap of paper.' Then we saw clearly that there was but one law for Germany, her will to rule.

TO MAKE IT HOT FOR LOAFERS.

As will be seen by an article elsewhere, the police of Alexandria made another descent today upon street corner loiters. They brought four specimens of the African race before the Police Court to answer the charge of vagrancy. It was shown by the evidence that the accused had been offered employment and had refused to accept the same. They were sent to jail for ninety days, during which term they are liable at any time to be turned over to guards who will take them miles from Alexandria where they will be compelled to work on the roads of Virginia.

But this crusade is not likely to be confined to negro loafers in the Old Dominion but whites also. Not only will such be in danger of arraignment by the state authorities, but they will have the lynx eyes of government officials upon them also.

The Richmond police are going to put the clamps on the poolroom loafers. Chief Werner announces that after today he will have his men visit all such places and call upon young men found therein to produce their registration certificates. Those who fail to produce them and admit that they are under twenty-one will have to face Police Justice Crutchfield as the law prohibits youths under that age frequenting such places. Those who fail to produce their cards and yet insist that they are twenty-one will have to explain in the federal court. The rule will apply to men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one, eligible for military service under the draft system. Minors who have been obtaining a quart of whisky a month on representation that they are of legal age will also be called to account, it being a violation of the prohibition act for a minor to buy whisky in any quantity.

TIMELY SUGGESTION.

The name of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America, born June 3, 1808, was honored yesterday afternoon by Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in a ceremony held at the base of the Davis Monument on Monument Avenue.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman delivered the address. He devoted the larger part of his attention of reviewing President Davis's conduct during the War Between the States.

"The Confederacy was defeated not at Gettysburg and not at Appomattox, but here in Richmond in the halls of the Congress," said Dr. Freeman. "By not co-operating with President Davis and giving him the authority to carry on the war with the maximum of unity and efficiency, the wrangling politicians made it impossible for the cause to be victorius.

"The lesson of the Confederacy should serve as a warning to the United States today as it stands on the threshold of war with Germany. Unless our present Congress places the necessary power in the hands of President Wilson, the story of 1861-1865 may be repeated."

The committee in charge of the memorial service was composed of Mrs. B. A. Blenner, Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, Mrs. Samuel Dew and Mrs. J. K. Bowman.

The Liberty Bonds.

Editor Gazette:

I should like to call the particular attention of our citizens of moderate means to the splendid opportunities offered by our banks to each of us to discharge our patriotic duty, and at the same time to make a gilt-edged investment. Pay $1.00 down and $1.00 per week for fifty weeks, and a fifty dollar liberty bond will be delivered to you with one years accrued interest at 3 1-2 per cent, making the bond $51.75.

By twelve monthly installments, of $4.25 each, a total of $51, at the end of one year you will receive a liberty loan of 1917 bond for $50 together with the interest on the same, a total of $51.75.

Any amount of bonds may be bought under either of these plans which is the simplest and easiest yet offered." The Kaiser has not crippled to levy huge indemnities upon the cities of Belguim. It is no secret that if he triumphs in this war he will exact huge indemnities from us. "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," should be the slogan of every citizen. Buying a "liberty" bond today is the surest way to avoid the possible humiliation of being compelled to buy an "indemnity" bond tomorrow.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Out of the tangled web of China's latest revolution, diplomats here are willing to make only one prediction: Whichever way the revolution goes, China will enter the war against Germany. Japan will not attempt interference. In fact, opinion here is that Japan, together with the other entente allies, no matter what her wish heretofore may have been, now wishes the "big boy of the Orient" to enter actively the lists against the central powers. How soon this desired change may the ascendancy in the empire's politics dependent entirely upon how soon China can arrange her internal affairs.

Santas Dumont, the pioneer Brazilian aviator, has invented a powerful type of seaplane for fighting submarines. The new machine will be manufactured in the United States and supplied to all the allies.

According to a Vienna dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung of Copenhagen, the Austrian Parliament probably will be the scene this week of discussions of such a serious nature that "the possible consequences cannot be foreseen."

THE BLUE TO THE GRAY

By WILLIAM DUDLEY MARRY
(Co F, 7th Illinois Cavalry, U. S. V.)

Welcome veterans from the South!
No facile pen, no word of mouth
Can tell the feeling fine
The men in blue are proud to own
For men in gray to valor known
From days of ould lang syne.

In eighteen hundred sixty-three
Your serried ranks, led on by Lee—
The prince of Chivalry—
Would fain have captured Washington
And felt the day of triumph won
'Mid shouts of victory.

Today you come in peace and love
To win a triumph far above
The victory of arms.
Our gates, our hearts are open wide;
Your peaceful conquest shall abide
In memory that charms.

'Twas not in malice nor in hate
Your fields and vineyards desolate
Were left in sixty-five;
In truth to tell we loved you so
We could not bear to see you go
And leave the Union hive.

So like the mischief did you fight
And raise our hair by day and night
With frightful "rebel yell,"
That we from sheer necessity
Must make you see, reluctantly
That war in deed, was hell.

It's over now, thanks be to God!
Though many sleep beneath the sod
Both of the Blue and Gray;
And we who live have come to know,
While years may come and years may go,
Our hearts are one today.

There is no North, South, East or West,
No section that we love the best,
Except upon the map;
Within our hearts, from sea to sea,
We sing, "My Country 'Tis of Thee."
Our Union knows no gap.

The cause for which you bravely coped
Was one you loved and fondly hoped
Might never wane nor perish;
The flag you rallied to defend
Will be the emblem to the end
Of memories you cherished.

We blame you not, for well we know
That while your flag of long ago
Is dear to you today,
Above all flags Old Glory flies,
Reflection from the starry skies—
The flag of Blue and Gray.

GERMAN REVOLT SPREADS.

Meetings Throughout Nation Discuss Empire Reconstruction.

London, June 5.—How far reaching has become the revolutionary epidemic can be seen from the reports, authentic in every way, which reach England of discussion in the Reichstag in which the abdication of the Hohenzollerns has been mentioned.

Numerous meetings throughout Germany and the conference between the Austrian and German sovereigns discussed reconstruction and an elective Federal empire as an alternative to a German republic.

It is believed the crown prince has grown so unpopular that should the imperial form of government be retained on the elective basis Crown Prince Rupprech of Bavaria would command more votes even in Prussia than the present heir to the throne.

There is a veritable avalanche of criticism of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg. The Berliner Tageblatt rails at him for offering peace by an understanding with Russia, pointing out the futility of declaring in public offers of this kind, which are always met by a solemn statement of the unity of the allies.

The Munich Post hints at the people taking affairs into their own hands to carry through a peace program which rejects all thoughts of forcible annexation. with a secure and lasting peace for the nation on a basis of national understanding.

Recently a train bearing 1,000 children left Berlin for the country districts, where food is plentiful. All the youngsters were suffering from undernourishment.

Altogether 40,000 children will be deported for better food.

GERMANY'S PEACE TERMS.

(Baltimore Sun)

The peace program of the Austrian and German delegates to the Socialist Conference at Stockholm is very much akin to the program which there is good reason to believe Germany and Austria would be glad to accept as a basis for settlement. While it includes declarations in favor of independence for Finland and Poland, autonomy for Galicia and the South Slavic lands under Austrian sovereignty and the release of Serbia and Belguim from Teutonic control, nothing is said of Italy's claim to her unredeemed territory nor of the French right to Alsace-Lorraine. Considering the present military situation, it would be difficult to imagine either Berlin or Venna interposing any serious objections to these proposals if the Allies should offer them especially as they are coupled with prohibition of all annexations and indemnities. This would leave the German-Austran-Turkish alliance with their own skins on their backs, even though it involved the relinquishment of the spoils of war.

Some of the other groups are still to formulate their programs, but the Austrian-German platform is the most important, not only because it is that of the delegates from two of the largest countries represented at Stockholm, but because it has been framed so as to appeal as strongly as possible to the aspirations of the little peoples, who have become restless for self-government, as well as the radical socialism now in the saddle in Russia.

The Stockholm conference has been described as an article made in Germany, but the program put forward by the German and Austrian delegates almost suggests that the meeting was encouraged for the purpose of presenting the peace proposals which Von Bethman-Hollweg did not care to make directly through the Reichstag.

Penitentiary guards went to Charlottesville Saturday and took to Richmond Robert Jones and Hamilton Crosby, the negroes convicted of the murder of Special Policeman Meredith A. Thomas, who detected them in the act of stealing hams. The men are to be electrocuted June 20. Before leaving Jones mado a confession in the presence of two ministers. He also wrote a letter to the widow of the slain officer, asking forgiveness. Crosby declared that he did not assist in killing Thomas.

SERVES THEM RIGHT

North Carolina Youths Who Are Old Enough to Drink Must Register.

Charlotte, N. C., June 5.—A number of of minor youths in this State who for months have been obtaining liquor shipments under the prohibition law by making oath that they were 21 found themselves in a predicament today when they learned they must register Tuesday for the war draft.

Warrants charging perjury have been issued to be served if they try to avoid registration by admitting they are under 21.

During a severe electrical storm which passed over Culpeper county Friday night, forty-two head of fine cattle belonging to Travers Bickers, of Leon, were killed by lightning. The animals had taken refuge under a large tree, and the bolt which killed the herd also demolished the tree.

TO OUTLAW KRONSTADT

Two Deputies Sent To Fortress To Bring Rebels To Reason.

Petrograd, June 5.—"Kronstadt will be declared morally boycotted outlawed and cut off from the rest of the empire unless it immediately withdraws its defiance to the Provisional Government."

This statement was made Sunday by Minister of Justice Pereveizeff, who recently conducted negotiations with local extremists on behalf of the Petrograd Government and narrowly escaped being lynched by a mob, owing to his insistence upon the release of an innocent officer who had been imprisoned.

"Two deputies," continued M. Pereveizeff have gone to the fortress with the aim of bringing the rebels to reason.

"Kronstadt exaggerates its strength. We have here sufficient troops and ships to coerce the rebels. We could also easily blockade the island and starve it out, but I and my colleagues are agreed that such measures are not desirable. Instead, the Cabinet will probably tomorrow, if in the meantime the Kronstadt has not surrendered, issue a declaration that the fortress has turned traitor to the revolution and become an enemy of Russia's new freedom. We are convinced that the universal reprobation of Russia without harsher methods will bring the extremists to reason."

RUSSIAN SITUATION

General Brusiloff Made Commander-in-Chief of Armies on Southwestern Front.

Petrograd, June 5.—Gen. Michael V. Alexieff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has resigned. Gen. Alexis Brussiloff, commander-in-chief of the armies of the southwestern front, has been appointed to succeed him. Gen. Gerko, commander on the western front replaces Brussiloff on the southwestern front.

Petrograd, June 5.—Russian scouts Sunday broke through four rows of wire entanglements in front of the German positions near Kovel and dispersed the Teuton barrier guards. Farther south in the Carpathian Mountains, Russian scouts penetrated the German wire entanglements near Pnevi, drove the Germans from the trenches and captured a machine gun.

Petrograd, June 5.—A band of fanatics, who have placed themselves at the head of the radical elements of the fortress of Kronstadt yesterday took the famous "one step" from the sublime to the ridiculous. At the same time they tried to sweep the capital and all the rest of Russia along upon their path of folly. They did not succeed. Petrograd is still comparatively calm and orderly. But Kronstadt is engulfed by anarchy. Its new "government", headed by the young firebrand, Anatole Lamanoff, holds forth aboard a warship anchored in the Gulf of Finland. The "cabinet councils" are held in the mess room. The lookout is in vigilant hands. The ship is ready at any moment to defend or attack the fortress, as circumstances may demand; ready also to flee at a moment's notice should safety dictate that course.

Washington, June 5.—The State Department last night had one hope of saving Russia to the allies. It was the Root mission, which is hurrying overland to Petrograd and is expected to reach the Russian capital on June 11. It was frankly admitted yesterday that the situation in Russia presents a blacker aspect than at any time in the war. The country is rent and torn by revolution and the government set up as a last resort is tottering. The populace is on a debauch of license and drunkenness; there is little or no central authority; the army is disorganized and the financial and economic situation apparently hopeless. Conditions are said to be worse in Petrograd than in any other part of the nation.

DISORDER IN NEW YORK

Riots Follow Speeches of Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman.

New York, June 5.—A meeting of anarchists, Socialists and pacifists, in Hunt's Point Place, the Bronx, last night broke up in a wild riot. Ten thousand persons, who had been unable to join the meeting in the hall, were charged by a detachment of National Guardsmen and members of the Home Defense League with drawn guns and uplifted clubs. A score of men and women were arrested. Fifteen of them were injured. Fifty others were nursing bruises. Several soldiers were injured.

The riot followed speeches within the hall by Alexander Berkman, Emma Goldman and other radicals.

A midnight demonstration also took place before the City Hall last night. Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons, half of them women, marched down the Bowery to the City Hall to protest to Mayor Mitchell against the conscription law.

They were unable to see the mayor and were dispersed by the police and soldiers.

The third riotous anti-draft demonstration of the night occurred shortly before midnight, when the police arrested three agitators at Indianapolis Hall, Brownsville. Five thousand persons stormed the hall in an effort to free the prisoners.

PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.

First: All that lot of ground in the City of Alexandria, Virginia, on the east side of Columbus Street, between Princess and Oronoco Streets, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning on the east side of Columbus street 120 feet south of Oronoco street and thence south and binding on Columbus Street 20 feet; thence east, parallel to Oronoco Street 100 feet to an alley 16 feet wide; thence north binding on the said alley and parallel to Columbus Street 20 feet, and thence west parallel to Oronoco Street 100 feet to the beginning, with the right of way over the said alley in common with others entitled thereto. This lot of ground is improved by a modern up to date dwelling with all improvements beautifully and comfortably arranged, with large lot in the rear. Inspection invited.

Second: Lot No. 31, Block No. 3, in a certain plat of lots called George Washington Park, containing 3750 square feet of land.

Terms of Sale Cash. Conveyancing at the cost of the purchaser. A deposit of $100.00 will be required on the day of the sale.

H. NOEL GARNER,

ANOTHER BLOODY WAR,

Germany Does Not Expect Peace Following This Conflict to Be Long

Copenhagen, June 5.—Fears are expressed in Germany that the peace which ends the present conflict will immediately be followed by another war.

The prediction of another war is made in an article in the Deutsche Tageszeitung, of Berlin, written by Prince Frederick of Lewenstein and Dr. Carl Reldt.

The article in part, follows:

"As it is impossible for a man out of breath with running to run further, so it is impossible for a pumped-out state to conduct a new war before it has gained its strength. Nevertheless, the next war perhaps already stands at our door.

"Who dares maintain that with the conclusion of peace a sudden state of tranquillity will ensue? We may hope that such will be the case but we have no assurances of it. Therefore, when we have won we must not leave the question of compensation to our statesmen. We must stretch forth our hands and help ourselves to the good things which the enemy holds, so that, at all events, we may richly compensate ourselves for all we have lost.

"With the good things thus gained we can secure and fortify ourselves against the next war, which assuredly will not be long in coming, as the indirect result of our triumph, for the envy of the enemy is inexhaustible and his greed insatiable."

UNION MEN HAVE CANDIDATE,

Howard T. Colvin Indorsed for Legislature by Central Trades and Labor Council.

Howard T. Colvin, chief clerk in the office of Superintendent Lewis Marchen, of the bureau of legislative reference, has been nominated by the Central Trades and Labor Council for the house of delegates from Richmond. Mr. Colvin's indorsement by the Trades Council was pratically unanimous. He will stand on a union labor platform in his campaign.

Action was taken in the matter by the council at the last meeting, but Mr. Colvin had not yet formally announced his candidacy. Colvin was for years a prominent figure in the Virginia State Federation and served as financial secretary Following dissension in the ranks of the state body Colvin's stewardship was challenged by the opposing faction. He failed to exhibit his books when a demand was made on him and litigation in the courts resulted. The breach between the factions in the state federation it has been announced, is now healed.

It is known, however, that the Typographical Union has not been in complete accord with the Central Trades and Labor Council. At a recent meeting of the printers a resolution to withdraw representation from the central body was offered and laid on the table for further consideration. Candidate Colvin came to the legislative reference bureau from Alexandria. He is the editor of the Square Deal, a journal of the trades' unions.

Mr Colvin announced his intention to hand in his resignaton as chief clerk of the bureau of legislative reference. His successor will be appointed by Superintendent Machen, of the bureau.

On her last voyage out from this port the American Line steamship Kroonland was attacked by submarines. Four torpedoes were fired at her but none exploded. Two of the torpedoes missed the vessel by twenty feet. The other two struck the boat glancing blows but did not explode, he said. The liner was nearing the English coast and running at full speed. The officer in charge ordered the ship to strike a zigzag course, and the gunners opened fire on the submarines, which disappeared.

THE Bell telephone and progress go hand in hand. The lines reach everywhere; in the crowded cities, in the villages, on the farms.

Telephone work is something that can't stand still. To serve the public properly the system must be constantly extended.

Telephone progress means community prosperity. New telephones mean increased business.
